Corrugated Cardboard Savings

Powell Valley Recycling can reduce your waste collection expense. You will want to know at least two things. How much money will recycling these clean corrugated boxes save? How much trouble is it?

Cost Savings – Throwing clean corrugated shipping boxes into your waste disposal dumpsters takes up a great deal of the space you are paying for. By using one of the 32 dumpsters located around town, designated for cardboard Only, you can reduce the number of dumpsters you presently pay for.

Inconvenience – Using the designated collection dumpsters may require extra steps for you and your employees. If cardboard-only dumpsters are not close to your business you can still save money by bringing the clean corrugated boxes to the recycling center six days each week.
Recycling saves you money!

Record Keeping Clutter?

What do you do with bookkeeping data you no longer need? After the need for keeping historical records has passed you have an important choice to make for disposal. To the landfill or back into the production stream.

Powell Valley Recycling accepts office paper, manila file folders and computer paper. Take those outdated records to the recycling center and put them back into the economy.

Your waste can keep our shipments flowing and reduce the volume into our landfill!

Buried in Catalogs?

You are receiving new product catalogs and trade magazines all the time. Before throwing the older versions into the trash think about bringing these materials to Powell Valley Recycling. Magazines and catalogs are part of the waste stream PVR diverts from the landfill and back into production.
